Resolution.—The Board is alive to the principle of adhering to the budget programme and every endeavour is being made as far as possible to execute only the budgetted works as will be seen from the resolutions dated the 26th November 1917, in which a number of budgetted works have also been sanctioned.

Out of the 23 non-budgetted works proposed, 18 are for well works, the execution of which is considered very necessary as in the majority of cases the villagers are stated to have already either done their portion of the work or paid cash contribution and have requested for Government help. It is also reported that the wells intended for cholera infected villagers had to be taken in hand as a matter of urgent necessity though non-budgetted.
